Waveland water, gas pact let for $18,506

Low bid of $18,506.90 from Superior Utilities, Inc., of Gulfport for expansion of Waveland's gas and water lines was accepted by the mayor and board of aldermen Tuesday night.

Work includes extending gas and water lines out Nicholson Avenue from the old town boundary near Jeff Davis Avenue to Curve the motel development at U.S. 90 and Kila Road and to relocate natural gas lines where the Interstate 10 interchange will bisect Rt. 603. The former job to enter an agreement with Lufkin, Inc., the motel developer.

Ed Abbott, Jr., Gulfport representative for B.M. Dornblatt and Associates, consulting engineers, recommended Superior's bid, noting it fell within his estimate of the cost. Work can begin within two weeks and water should be available to the motel within five weeks. Abbott agreed to oversee the work in cooperation with Mayor Garfield Linder who doubles as manager of the town's gas and water department. Abbott assured the aldermen they would get a first class job and said he wants the backlog completed immediately behind the pipes as they are laid.

Other bidding on the utilities project were Thomas H. Hard of Baton Rouge, $23,033; W.S. Construction Co. of Jackson, $26,735; and Utilities Construction of Jackson, $19,303 for water work only.

Council voted to pay Dornblatt $1,880 now on his bill for professional services in designing the extension and gas line relocation.

Confirmation was given to appointments by Mayor Linder of Alderman John Longo, Jr., as deputy county civil defense director to Curve Waveland and of Mrs. Donald Landry as clerk, subject to special state CD examinations to be given at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Charles Favre, county civil defense director, explained the procedure is in keeping with the recent reorganization of the state's civil defense organization. He explained matching funds are available for purchase of equipment to units participating and asked Waveland to establish a budget for this purpose.

After hearing a report from Robert Lucas, president of the town's volunteer fire department, on cost of various articles needed to improve fire fighting techniques, council directed advertising for bids to be opened at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 21. It had previously instructed Lucas to compile a list of bids needed and get prices. However they ran over the $500 maximum set by the state on which bids are not needed. He had gotten figures from Bird Fire and Safety of Biloxi and Mason Equipment Co. of Eunice, La. Council also confirmed Moore's bid.

New area poses new problems to W'land

Whether Waveland's 25-mile an hour speed limit applies along the newly annexed strip of U.S. 90 was among a myriad of questions posed to Town Council Tuesday night in the wake of its territorial expansion last month.

An informal conference with B.M. Dornblatt, consulting engineer, was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday to consider various municipal needs created by the annexation. Alderman John Longo, Jr., said he hoped a zoning and land use map could be prepared promptly embracing the new territory. Council adopted a resolution presented by Town Attorney Landon M. Cox, Jr., which provides that the town's police tax does not apply in the annexed area until April 1. Cox explained that this is to avoid confusion over the recent increase in the levy from one-half to one per cent.

Representatives of the State Tax Commission already have been here to establish boundaries on U.S. 90 for town tax collections. They run from just east of Bloomer Gas to Mary

Ann's Gift Shop. Ed Abbott, Jr., manager of Dornblatt's Gulfport office, reported on preliminary work toward locating and marking new town boundaries. Only difficulty in where Waveland compromised its original annexation ordinance to secure court approval, he said. Permission also must be secured to get markers on private property. Abbott suggested that to reduce costs, he simply outline the

Student hearings Saturday

Three students at Hancock North Central, all with poor grades, were oved by the bell Monday when county school trustees decided to hear further argument before ordering their suspension from school for disciplinary offenses.

Calling a special session to consider the matter on Tuesday, trustee Robert F. Linder to notify the parents of the meeting.

The action was decided upon after trustees heard from Chester H. Black, superintendent at North Central, and high school principal J. W. Rodriguez and read a two-page brief on the conduct of the boys submitted by Black.

Joseph Benvenuti, Youth Court designee, was invited to hear the argument. He said he could not enter into active discussion and was there to listen and offer suggestions.

Trustees were told the trio had been absent for totals of 32, 40 and 25 days of the 117 school days so far in the 1966-67 year, all had made unauthorized departures from the school grounds; two had failed to abide by the school's dress code; one was repeatedly tardy in class and committed repeated discipline offenses in study hall and all were guilty of other infractions.

Rodriguez said ample warning had been given them and the parents notified.

One other boy was also advanced for consideration on the expulsion route but the same action was taken.

The board decided to repair roofs at North Central pending the outcome of its application for federal funds for a more extensive overhaul job. Fred Wagner, architect on the last county school building program, said he thought the installation of roof drains may once the situation as water was standing on the roof unable to escape in several locations. He said pumps may also provide the solution but he did not want to commit himself with any recommendations until after referring to notes on the subject taken at a previous date.

Trustees thought the main problem lay in original construction work being designed for a tight budget. They doubted they could go back on the original contractor or rector as all buildings had been constructed to specification.

Attorney Walter James Phillips reported that the general contractor for projects re-

New state lines set, Moore seeks PSC job

W.E. (BUCKY) MOORE seeks reelection

A petition for legislative reapportionment, and first formal announcement by a candidate wavy top items on the political scene during the week.

First to announce for the August Democratic primary is W.E. (Bucky) Moore of McComb who is seeking re-election as public service commissioner from the southern district of Mississippi. His statement appears on Page 7-A.

The three-judge federal court considering the suit for apportionment of the state legislature on the one man, one vote basis announced its plan last Thursday, throwing out the scheme adopted by the legislature in November.

It pretty much followed speculation as far as Hancock County is concerned. In the State Senate, Stone County was added to the existing Hancock-Pearl River Counties district.

In the House of Representatives, Hancock and Pearl River in one district got two members. One is designated as Port 1, the other as Port 2.

The court plan is based on strict population parity. Maximum deviation from the norm in either house would be 12.54 per cent. Only six of the 36 districts in the Senate and two of the 52 in the House would vary more than 10 per cent from the norm.

Because legislative races are upcoming in August, the court said, "there is no alternative now to doing that which have tried so hard to avoid." U.S. Circuit Judge James P. Coleman headed the panel which included District Judges Harold Cox and Dan M. Russell, Jr.

The legislature's own plan

IC test shoot heard on coast

No claims of damage were received on the results of the firing which was heard on the coast level located at 117 dachels. Owners of the window however admitted it had been extensively cracked prior to the firing and that replacement had been in the works.

NASA engineers also indicated a discrepancy exists in popular opinion regarding vibration caused by the firing. In effect, they claim, there is no vibration originating from the actual firing, instead it is caused by sound waves emanating from the atmosphere.

The engine firing was judged a complete success and the MTF line full operational capacity. The S-IC first stage booster to the Saturn V Apollo moon shot rocket in the biggest version of the site to test.

From now on testing will proceed on a more or less continuous basis until the end of the Saturn V program. This calls for the preflight operations testing of at least 12 S-IC components and 14 more S-IC. Any alteration of the program or alteration of the test facility's role will come towards the end of the projected test series, several years from now.

The primary purpose of the S-IC-T test was to test the stand itself on the test version booster had been successfully fired on several previous occasions. The stand passed all tests with flying colors. Next step is a 40 second test firing tentatively set March 15. The prototype S-IC-T, like the actual flight version, is 150 feet long, 39 feet in diameter and weighs 4.7 million pounds when fully loaded. Its five Rocketdyne

F-1 engines burn kerosene and liquid oxygen to produce a total of 7.3 million pounds of thrust. The normal "burn time" of the stage's engines in flight is two and one-half minutes.

Asher low bidder on city hook-up

Curcio Asher's low bid of $890 was the city's cheapest for water connection of residential property. City Commission of Gulfport, Miss., approved this bid.

Asher was $10 cheaper than Central Engineering, Inc., which offered to connect the four buildings for $900. Six plumbing firms submitted bids on the work. Others were M-D Enterprises, Inc., $1,119; M o n t e-Carver, $1,196.14; Biell, $1,149 for clay pipe and $1,419.70 for cast iron, and Economy Plumbing, $1,479.

The successful bidder proposed to use tranche pipe. His unit prices were $275 at Webb Community Center; $210 at the Garden Center (Taylor School); $175 at the fire station, and $230 for the waterworks house.

The tabulation showed Central bidding $922 on Webb, $182 on the Garden Center, $204 on the fire station and $192 on the waterworks house. M-D Enterprises bid $324, $178, $213, and $244 and Mont-Carver's prices were $452.36, $238.77, $180.59 and $314.59. On clay pipe, Biell proposed $399, $255, $165 and $310; on cast iron, $446, $317, $275 and $361.80. Economy proposed clay pipe at $445, $352 and $310 on Webb, Taylor and the water house and iron on the fire station at $372.

How Court Would Reassign Miss. Legislators

NUMERALS INDICATE NUMBER OF SEATS FROM DISTRICT

Senator Core of Tennessee fought hard against the bill on the grounds that it didn't provide any objective control over those taxpayer dollars. The parties could spend them any way they chose without accounting for them. But Sen. Long feels the battle path for repeal comes from Republicans who view with alarm the prospect that Democrats in future Presidential elections would have no much money to spend on the Republicans.

Long not only believes this approach is correct; he wants to guarantee it by amending the law so as to prohibit the major parties from any private fund-raising activities. He argues that giving the major parties equal financing not only would make for fairer elections, but would involve each against special interests and pressure groups.

Anti-Humphrey demonstrations

The FBI has reported to Vice President Humphrey that the students who marched at Stanford University were led by professional agitators from San Francisco. Only one of the agitators was actually a student.

"A Conservative View"

By James J. Kilpatrick

SALISBURY, RHODESIA—The visitor who enters actively to Prime Minister Ian Smith, and catches some of the gang-ster contagion of independence in the Salisbury air, is likely to conclude that in Britain's war of cantonment upon Rhodesia, there is working on Rhodesia's side. Via spokesman for Her Majesty's Foreign Office, interviewed in London, two plausible arguments to the contrary. They remain carefully tagged that the Rhodesians, coupled with other powers, will bring a peaceful Mr. Smith back to the bargaining table before the end of the year.

There is no question that 16 months of economic sanctions, both voluntary and mandatory, are beginning to put a squeeze on Rhodesia. But one in authority will only when becomes of the 1966 tobacco crop, which was brought up and unabsorbed by the government, but it is widely conceded that growers suffered a heavy blow in the market-down prices they finally received. Now the 1967 crop is headed for market. It too must be channelled through clandestine routes toward an uncertain return.

The sanctions have had a devastating effect upon Rhodesia's exports of chrome and asbestos. An enormous sugar output is stymied. One $3 million venture in gold mining has been blocked. It is a reasonable assumption that trade in meat, meat products and leather has been severely curtailed. And as a natural consequence of the growing imbalance in trade, imports of many consumer goods—especially luxury items—have been noticeably restrained.

That is the dark side of the picture. The British Foreign Office to convince this prospect will get darker yet, particularly if South Africa should weary of playing the sympathetic good friend to its northern neighbor. Rhodesia and South Africa compete in many fields of export trade. Altruism has its limits. And South Africa, under her new president, shows signs of wishing to emerge from social ostracism within the world community.

These comfortably grim predictions from Whitehall, in my own view, fail to take sufficient account of Rhodesia's spirit and Rhodesia's resources. Outside of Africa, most of the nations of the world could not care less about Rhodesia; they have a thousand problems more important than the tight enforcement of sanctions against her. But Rhodesia's sole concern is Rhodesia. Her people are working night and day for survival. Their hearts and minds are engaged in this struggle with match. And though Ian Smith has a number of articulate opponents, the European community (and many an African leader) is solidly behind him.

Thus a locker-room spirit prevails. In the months since independence was declared, Rhodesia's ingenious manufacturers have learned to make-do and to diversify. To halt the outflow of surplus Rhodesian pounds, they have learned to make refrigerators, freezers, paper clips, combs and soap. They are growing their own wheat. Their printing presses are churning out rollers early made in Rhodesia. They are promoting the tourist trade as if Victoria Falls were Miami Beach.

Thus far, abundant supplies of oil, gasoline, and spare motor parts have come in. A large Ford assembly plant, employing 60 Europeans and 400 Africans, has been "more or less" in operation, but this is rather less than more; last week the plant's spacious parking lot was half full, and something obviously was going on inside. Employment levels are holding firm, partly through programs of spread-the-work, and some areas even report a labor shortage.

In the Rhodesian view, a great many nations, having given lip service to the UN's Afro-Asian bloc, sooner or later will prove susceptible to advantageous deals. Rhodesia's tobacco ranks with the best in the world; it can be bought for half the price of American leaf; in time, it is felt, someone will buy it. The same hopeful prospect applies to sugar, chrome, asbestos, iron ore, leather. Seventy nations may have reported their compliance with anti-Rhodesian sanctions, but Lord Angus Graham, Rhodesia's minister for external affairs, is cheerfully unimpressed. "A lot of these chaps," he remarks, "are like Lord Nelson; they have a blind eye."

Meanwhile, along Salisbury's Industrial Lytton Road, the economy appears to be booming. The giant Castle brewery is producing enough beer for Rhodesians to drink themselves to prosperity, if not to insensibility. The casual eye spots factories producing cork products, detergents, enameled goods, steel fabrications, matches, printed packages and cartons. No one doubts that Rhodesia can produce, from her own resources, the food, fruit, meat, grain, textiles and building materials necessary to sustain life. My own guess is that, given South Africa's continuing cooperation (plus the assistance of Portugal and the neutrality of Switzerland), Rhodesia can keep going indefinitely.

In this event, the militant Afro-Asian bloc doubtless will renew its howl for the use of force to crush Rhodesia, but public opinion, both in the U.S. and in Britain, surely would rebel. In the end, some mutually face-saving device will have to be found that envisions something a little less than independence featuring something a little less than majority rule. Until that time, Rhodesia will rock gently along.

As others see it

Arkansas opens its doors

There'll be no more closed "public" meetings in Arkansas. Governor Winthrop Rockefeller assured Arkansas of that last week when he signed into law a measure guaranteeing open meetings and open records by public officials and agencies. He said as he inked his name to the significant paper that he was "proud to sign it."

AND PROUD the governor should be. The proposal was historic. While its sister states are wallowing in the dark of condoned closed meetings, Arkansas has opened most of its doors, for good.

The newly signed and sealed measure would prohibit closed governmental meetings—state and local—for any reason except the discussion of personnel or any other executive sessions specifically allowed by the constitution, such as closed-door meetings by the state Senate.

It would prevent any public official at state, county and city levels from "willfully" trying to hide public records or official actions from the public and the press. The press, which in the form of the Arkansas chapter of the national professional journalism society Sigma Delta Chi, sponsored the anti-closed meetings legislation, would have to be notified in advance of the meetings.

Violations of the open meeting law can be challenged in circuit court and, according to the bill itself, it is mandatory that the court grant a hearing within seven days in the event of any such challenge. Now that "The Land of Opportunity" has shown its responsibility in this most important area of public rights, the question is still, When, Mississippi, When?

Heart fund is off to good start

Business and professional men are responding well to our annual Heart Fund appeal, Pete Chapman, chairman, said Monday.

He said he is well pleased by the contributions of the group but pointed out that several remain to be contacted.

"In the event any body is missed by our canvassers they may forward their contribution directly to me at P.O. Box 369. Checks should be made out to the Hancock Heart Fund," he said.

Block workers donating time and effort to the fund received special mention and Chapman praised their determined drive in this year's campaign. "I should especially like to thank Amos Karpodien, Mrs. Gordon Glaim, Dave Iruai, Mrs. Frank Kiefer, Charles Thomas, Joe B. Burrow, Dave McDonald and Mrs. Genevieve Mallers for their outstanding effort," Chapman said.

COMMISSION

(SOUTHERN DISTRICT)

This is to announce my candidacy for re-election for Public Service Commissioner of the Southern District. Let me cite some of the major accomplishments of the Commission during my tenure of office.

There has been no major rate increase by any utility. More than twelve and one half million ($12,500,000.00) dollars from telephone companies have been refunded to you by check. More than nine million ($9,000,000.00) dollars have been refunded to you customers.

One of my chief projects has been to extend telephone service to farms and to the rural areas. New telephones costing approximately $35,000 have been installed in the State of Mississippi during my terms. Of these, approximately 100,000 have been on the farms and in the rural areas.

My record is my platform. I have now participated in excess of 5,000 cases on your Commission of the Southern District. I feel that this experience is extremely valuable in rendering better service to the people of the Southern District. I am a very honest man. I have tried to consider the best interest of the public. I am therefore asking you to re-elect me to this office. To the very best of my ability, I will continue to approach every problem with fairness to all.

I wish to thank each and everyone for past and continued support.

Notice Of School Desegregation Plan Under Title VI Of The Civil Rights Act Of 1964

This Notice Is Made Available To Inform You About The Desegregation Of Our Schools.

Keep A Copy Of This Notice. It Will Answer Many Questions About School Desegregation.

1. DESEGREGATION PLAN IN EFFECT
The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District is being desegregated under a plan adopted in accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The purpose of the desegregation plan is to eliminate from our school system the racial segregation of students and all other forms of discrimination based on race, color, or national origin.

2. THIRTY-DAY CHOICE PERIOD.
Each student or his parent, or other adult person acting as parent, is required to choose the school the student will attend next school year. The choice period will begin on March 14, 1967 and close April 12, 1967.

3. EXPLANATORY LETTERS AND SCHOOL CHOICE FORMS.
On the first day of the choice period, an explanatory letter and this notice will be sent by first-class mail to the parent, or other adult person acting as parent, of each student then in the schools who is expected to attend school the following school year. A school choice form will be sent with each letter, together with a return envelope addressed to the Superintendent. Additional copies of the letter, this notice and the choice forms are freely available to the public at any school and at the Superintendent's office.

4. RETURNING THE CHOICE FORMS.
Parents and students, at their option, may return the completed choice forms by hand to any school or by mail to the Superintendent's office, at any time during the 30-day choice period. No preference will be given for choosing early during the choice period. A choice is required for each student. No assignment to a school can be made unless a choice is made first.

5. CHOICE FORM INFORMATION.
The school choice form lists the names, locations and grades offered for each school. The reasons for any choice made are not to be stated. The form asks for the name, address and age of the student, the school and grade currently or last attended, the school chosen for the following year, the appropriate signature, and whether the form has been signed by the student or his parent. "The race, color, or national origin of the student is requested for purposes of record keeping required by the U.S. Office of Education. The information will not be used in any way to discriminate against the student." Any letter or other written communication which identifies the student and the school he wishes to attend will be deemed just as valid as if submitted on the choice form supplied by the school system. The names of students and the schools they choose or are assigned to under the plan will not be made public by school officials.

6. COURSE AND PROGRAM INFORMATION.
To guide students and parents in making his choice of school, there is enclosed in this notice a list of courses which are offered only at certain schools together with the names of the schools at which the special courses are offered. If any additional information is required concerning these special courses, please contact the administrative office of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District. If a student desires to be enrolled in a course not offered in all schools in the system during the year commencing September, 1967, he shall have the right to apply for enrollment in the particular school offering the special course.

7. SIGNING THE CHOICE FORM.
A choice form may be signed by a parent or other adult person acting as parent. A student who has reached the age of 15 at the time of choice, or will next enter the ninth or any higher grade, may sign his own choice form. The student's choice will be controlling unless a different choice is announced by his parent before the end of the period during which the student exercises his choice.

8. PROCESSING OF CHOICES.
No choice will be denied for any reason other than overcrowding. In cases where granting all choices for any school would cause overcrowding, the students choosing the school who live closest to it will be assigned to that school. Whenever a choice is to be denied, overcrowding will be determined by a uniform standard applicable to all schools in the system.

9. NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT, SECOND CHOICE
All students and their parents will be promptly notified in writing of their school assignments. Should any student be denied his choice because of overcrowding, he will be promptly notified and given a choice among all other schools in the system where space is available.

10. STUDENTS MOVING INTO THE COMMUNITY.
A choice of school for any student who will be new to the school system may be made during the 30-day choice period or at any other time before he enrolls in school. An explanatory letter, this notice and the school choice form will be given out for each new student on the school choice form. The student, at least seven days prior to the school system having the choice form, a choice to make will be allowed for the return of the choice form. A choice to make will be allowed for the return of the choice form. A choice to make will be allowed for the return of the choice form.

11. STUDENTS ENTERING FIRST GRADE.
The parent, or other adult person acting as parent, of every child entering the first grade, is required to choose the school his child will attend. Choices will be made under the same free choice process used for students new to the school system in other grades, as provided in paragraph 10.

12. PRIORITY OF LATE CHOICES.
No choice made after the end of the 30-day choice period may be denied for any reason other than overcrowding. In the event of overcrowding, choices made during the 30-day choice period will have first priority. Overcrowding will be determined by the standard provided for in paragraph 8. Any parent or student whose first choice is denied because of overcrowding will be given a second choice in the manner provided in paragraph 9.

13. TESTS, HEALTH RECORDS AND OTHER ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS.
Any academic tests or other procedures used in assigning students to schools, grades, classrooms, sections, courses of study, or for any other purpose, will be applied uniformly to all students without regard to race, color or national origin. No choice of school will be denied because of failure at the time of choice to provide any health record, birth certificate, or other document. The student will be tentatively assigned in accordance with the plan and the choice made, and given ample time to obtain any required document. Curriculum, credit, and promotion procedures will not be applied in such a way as to hamper freedom of choice of any student.

14. CHOICES ONCE MADE CANNOT BE ALTERED.
Once a choice has been submitted, it may not be changed, even though the choice period has not ended. The choice is binding for the entire school year to which it applies, except in the case of (1) compelling hardship, (2) change of residence to a place where another school is closer, (3) the availability of a school designated to fit the special needs of a physically handicapped student, (4) the availability at another school of a course of study required by the student, which is not available at the school chosen.

15. ALL OTHER ASPECTS OF SCHOOLS DESEGREGATED.
All school-connected services, facilities, athletics, activities and programs are open to all on a desegregated basis. A student attending school for the first time on a desegregated basis may not be subject to any disqualification or waiting period for participation in activities and programs, including athletics, which might otherwise apply because he is a transfer student. All transportation furnished by the school system will also operate on a desegregated basis. Facilities will be desegregated, and no staff member will lose his position because of race, color or national origin. This includes any case where less staff is needed because schools are closed or enrollment is reduced.

16. ATTENDANCE ACROSS SCHOOL SYSTEM LINES.
No arrangement will be made, or permission granted, by this school system for any students living in the community to attend school in another school system, where they would tend to limit desegregation, or where the opportunity is not available to all students without regard to race, color or national origin. No arrangement will be made, or permission granted, by this school system for any students living in another school system to attend school in this system, where this would tend to limit desegregation, or where the opportunity is not available to all students without regard to race, color or national origin.

17. VIOLATIONS TO BE REPORTED.
It is a violation of our desegregation plan for any school official or teacher to influence or discriminate any person from choosing a school where a desegregated education can be obtained, or to threaten any person with penalties or promises for any choice made. It is also a violation of Federal regulations for any person to intimidate, threaten, coerce, retaliate or discriminate against any individual for the purpose of interfering with the free making of a choice of a desegregated school. Any person having any knowledge of any violation of these prohibitions should report the facts immediately by mail or phone to the Equal Educational Opportunity Program, U.S. Office of Education, Washington, D.C. 20202 (telephone 202-632-9939). The name of any person reporting any violation will not be disclosed without his consent. Any other violation of the desegregation plan or other discrimination based on race, color, or national origin in the school system is also a violation of Federal regulations, and should likewise be reported. Anyone with a complaint to report should first bring it to the attention of State or local school officials, unless he feels it would not be helpful to do so. If State or local officials do not correct the violation promptly, any person familiar with the facts of the violation should report them immediately to the U.S. Office of Education at the above address or phone number.

plans USM reunion

"Stay-coon to '67."

This is the slogan of the Hancock County Chapter of the University of Southern Mississippi Alumni Assoc. which plans a reunion of graduates of the university living in the county the group feels their objective to both realistic and to reach.

Mrs. Joseph J. Korman is association president and other officers are Richard Thomas, vice president; Mrs. J.D. Williams, secretary-treasurer and R.G. Hubbard, III, director.

The group is hoping to meet their membership goal prior to USM Day, scheduled for March 30. At 7:30 on this night, in the Knights of Columbus Hall on Main Street, the association will stage their annual reunion.

Gatherings of former students and friends have been held for USM Day, in the majority of the county's counties, several other areas and counties outside the continental United States.

Row farming saves soil, says expert

W.J. Pippin and Chester Lee, both of Lumberton, are among several Hancock County farmers employing the new row arrangement system of planting corn, soybeans and other similar type crops on sloping land, according to L.A. Sparkman of the Soil Conservation Service.

Sparkman said the new method adds beauty to the land and also permits employment of good conservation practices.

"The system was developed to facilitate the use of heavy farm equipment on sloping land and to help conserve life sustaining soil," he said.

He said the system makes for greater efficiency in use of both labor and equipment.

Carubbas busy in Montessori method

A young Bay St. Louis woman who now makes her home in State College has been accepted at the University of London to do research in the Montessori educational process known as the Montessori Method.

She is Mrs. Roy Carubba, the former Anna Marie Pianos, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Pianos of this city. A graduate of St. Joseph Academy here and Loyola University in New Orleans, she is presently taking a correspondence course in this field from St. Nicholas Training Center in London.

The Carubbas, and their three children—David, 4, Roy, 3, and Nick, 6 months, all learning in the Montessori Method—are the subjects of a feature article appearing recently in the St. Louis Daily News. Mr. Carubba is working on his doctorate in education at Mississippi State.

Mrs. Carubba, who taught at Our Lady of the Gulf School here as well as in New Orleans and Baton Rouge before becoming a full time wife and mother, became interested in Montessori because of pupils unable to read and having language difficulties.

The method derives its name from Maria Montessori, the first Italian woman doctor, who was unable to go into private practice so worked in a mental hospital. She devised her psychology and education, devising methods for teaching children, normal and retarded. From her first day care center in 1900 there are many Montessori schools all over the world.

Chief aim of the method is to develop a child through education of his senses between 1 1/2 to 5 years. It calls for an environment and materials appropriate to the child's own size—breakable so he can recognize his mistakes in using them.

David and Roy-Roy are my golden pigs," Mrs. Carubba laughs. "Providing them with structured activities, observing them, and working with them is really good experience for me—a Montessori mother is helped as much as her children. They have learned a great deal about our country and the world by playing with educational toys. As the ages of three and four, they have a conception of what the world is and where relatives' homes are.

The 4-H camp at Ocean Springs will be operational again this summer following a year out of commission. Joe Peltier, assistant state 4-H club leader and camping coordinator, told the organization's goal is to accommodate every 4-H member in the state wishing to go to camp.

NO. 9490
CLARENCE HARRELL, JR., ET AL., DEFENDANTS
NOTICE OF SALE

By virtue of the terms of a decree of the Chancery Court of Hancock County, Mississippi, dated November 5, 1956, in Cause Number 9490, I, as Special Commissioner of the said Court in said Cause, will, on the 3rd day of April, 1967, at the first door of the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, within legal hours, offer for sale at public outcry and call to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real property situated in Hancock County, Mississippi, to-wit:

NE 1/4 of SW 1/4 of Section 6, Township 5 South, Range 10 West, in Hancock County, Mississippi.

The above property was the subject of a partition suit, and will be sold in order to satisfy said decree, and to divide the proceeds of the sale among the owners thereof, after paying all costs of the said proceeding, and this to come to be believed to be good, but I will convey only such title as is vested in me by these proceedings.

WITNESS my signature as Special Commissioner, on this 6th day of March, 1967.

are all over the country. And they learn to take care of their toys. The only small piece of the United States map missing is Rhode Island."

An other interest in Mrs. Carubba is to be a translator of interest was provided with a new structured activity. Says Mrs. Carubba, "There is a point in the Montessori theory. Children go through stages, and by observing the particular stage they are in can be determined. The toys are made to match their stage, which is an exercise of practical life."

"I always gave my own child a fish and a pencil," laughs Mrs. Carubba. "I married Roy. We have taught the boys to play—to play very carefully with each other and all the trimmings. They get their materials together and work and build their own plans. Ritual is used in the Montessori method because children love ritual and repetition."

Mrs. Carubba, who began work on her master's degree at MSU two years ago, has kept up her research and interest in education. She recently started corresponding with the St. Nicholas Training Center in London, a school for Montessori directresses. Montessori schools are widespread in England.

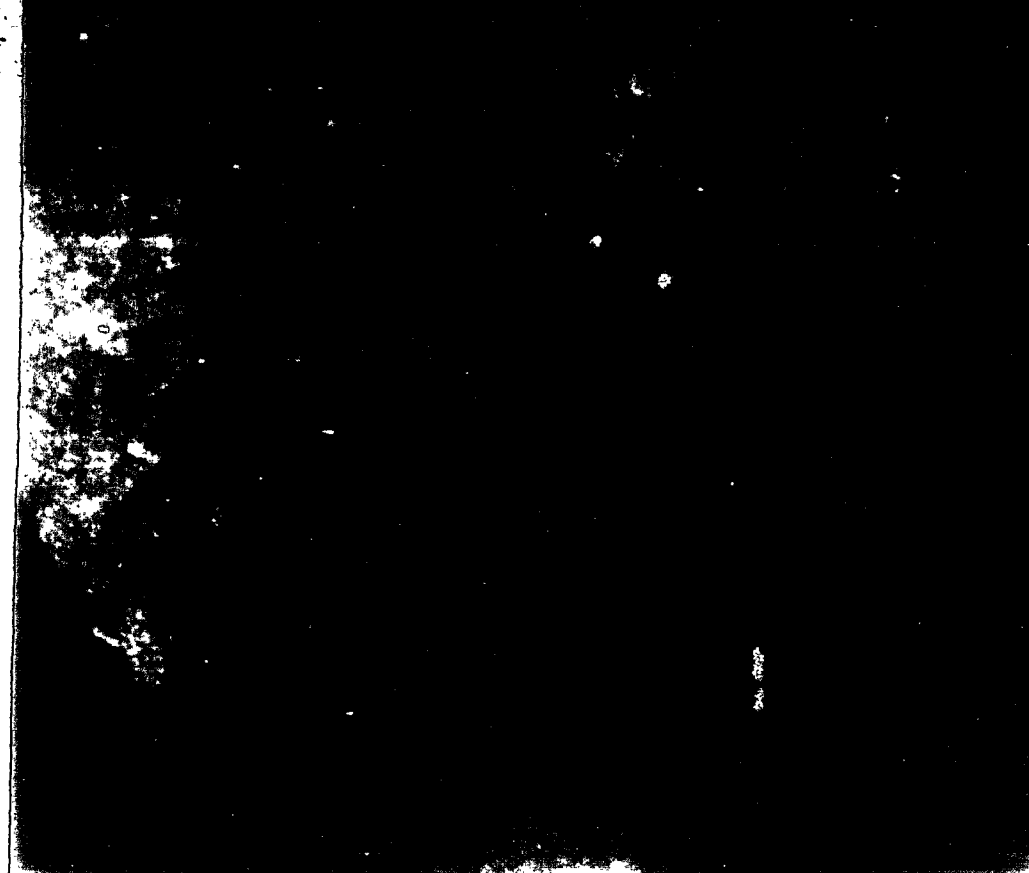

Her education discussion group met last night, and today she and her family will be leaving for New Orleans. Mr. Carubba's birthplace, where she will meet with the "directresses," or teachers, of the three Montessori schools there and observe classes in session.

"There is no pushing of children in this method," she stresses. "Their abilities are so often underestimated. And I have the greatest motivation in the world in pursuing this study," she went on to explain, "helping my own flesh and blood."

She plans to go back to school to work on her degree, and her hope is to establish a children's clinic someday—possibly in St. Louis.

Along with her educational interest and her boys, she still has time for art lessons. And, even with teaching several courses and studying as well, Mr. Carubba is an avid photographer with three small, lively subjects.

He taught Mrs. Carubba in high school band. She doesn't comment on his teaching methods, and he says little of her musical aptitude, except: "She did sweep out the band hall very well," he laughs.

PHOTOGRAPHER, PAINTER, PARENTS - Roy and Anna Marie Carubba, proud parents of three lively boys, have plenty to keep them busy. She points out to an active student and educator of the Montessori educational method. He keeps up with his camera hobby while working on his doctorate in education at Mississippi State.
